DANGERS OF THE SEASIDE

Health Seekers Cannot Always Respond to the Powerful Stimulus of the Air.

As a rule there is nothing to be said against the quality of sea air; it is cool, pure and clean, its supply is unlimited and ever fresh, and yet there may be found by medical men a reason for warning their patients about the drawbacks of the environment. The amusements offered at the seaside may be so varied compared with those of a quiet country life that the temptations of fishing, bathing, sailing and water sports in general are difficult to resist, even although it is the visitor's common experience time after time that the sea does not exactly suit his general health. It is a mischievous idea in the layman's mind that the remedy for all weak states of health is necessarily sea air. It is not always that the individual seeking strength can respond to the powerful and exciting stimulus of the bracing sea air; the digestive, secretory, circulatory and eliminatory systems may be goaded to an energy of which they are incapable by reason of a general debilitated condition; they are not able to do their work without exhaustion and the last state of that man may be worse than the first.—The Lancet.

JUST SUITED HIM

Mr. Krusty—No, sir, my daughter shall never leave the parental roof.

Tom Wise—I have no objections to coming here to live, sir.

CHILDREN AS SAVERS.

France has a school savings bank system which has been in operation since 1834, and at the present time there are over $3,000,000 in the banks. Germany has maintained a similar system since 1840. Lowell, Mass., children have placed more than $10,000 in the banks since 1900. A Pittsburgh bank has more than 26,000 children depositors with $150,000 on deposit. At the beginning of last year seven cities in the United States had school savings systems and these showed 230,000 depositors with $870,686 deposited.

EUNUCH'S LOVE AFFAIR.

A love tragedy occurred a few days ago at Calonica in the harem of the dethroned Sultan Abdul Hamid. A eunuch, named Yussuf Ali, became violently enamored of Eminch Aide, one of the most beautiful ladies of the harem. But the lady looked with disdain on his attentions. The other afternoon the eunuch followed her into the gardens. Suddenly he seized her, and after kissing her he plunged a dagger into her heart, and she fell dead. When her murderer was captured it was found that he had become insane. The anger of Abdul Hamid knew no bounds when he heard of his beautiful favorite's death, and it has been found necessary for the time to remove all eunuchs from his harem.

OCCUPATION OF IDOLS.

Some strange occupations figure on Indian census schedules. At the last census in many villages of Hyderabad and the central provinces enthusiastic and devout enumerators returned the village shrines and temples as "occupied houses." The occupant was the idol, whose occupation was stated as "granting boons and blessings," "living on contributions from the tenants." Other callings returned on the schedules include collectors of edible birds' nests, receivers of stolen goods, witches, wizards and cow poisoners.

WHY WILLIE DID NOT WIN

Failed to Hear Pistol Go Off, but Got Trophy for Running, Anyhow.

It was his twenty-first birthday party, says Answers. Each guest in turn was tackled by the proud mother, who explained the many virtues and the wonderful talents possessed by Willie.

"Look at the prizes he has won," she said, and forthwith the guest was forced to follow to another room, where Willie's hard-won prizes were on show. A book, presented by Uncle Joseph when Willie played his first piano piece, the medal he gained when he marched in the school procession, and other trophies of his many triumphs were all displayed.

But chief of all was the silver cup that stood in the center. And the guest wondered.

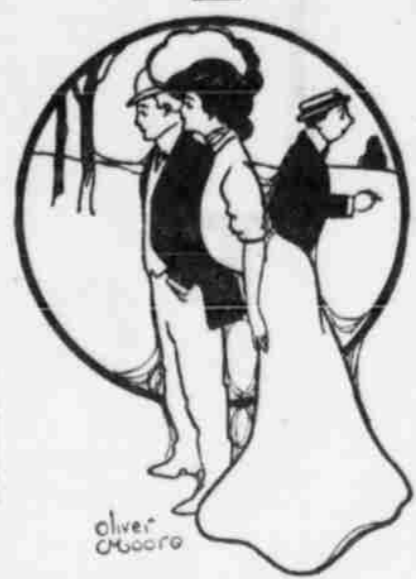

"What was this prize for?" he asked.

"That? Oh, that was for running!" answered the proud parent.

"And who presented it to him?" questioned the curious guest, as he failed to find the inscription.

"Well—we did," came the slow response, and then, as the guest still gazed in surprise, she explained: "You see, Willie certainly would have won, but he didn't hear the pistol go off!"

MAINTAINING THE BALANCE

Tom—Is Ferdie well balanced mentally?

Tess—Oh, yes; as long as he keeps his hat on straight.

TROLLEY AND CABLE.

Recently it was found that the operation of a siphon recorder of the submarine telegraph cable at Cape Town, South Africa, was interfered with by a trolley line. The shore end of the submarine cable for the length of a mile was at a mean distance of half a mile from the trolley line.

As a remedy a second or dummy cable with an earthplate was laid as nearly as possible over the old one and this effectually put an end to the disturbances. Observations made in London have shown that the earth's magnetic field is disturbed over the whole neighborhood of a certain electric railroad, and in the United States the utility of our magnetic observatories has more than once been threatened by the trolley.

PRETTY STORY SPOILED.

Apropos of your recent interesting editorial, "Accidents of History," in which you refer to Henry George's long citation of the story of the stoppage by an English warship, by order of Charles I., of a vessel on which Oliver Cromwell had taken passage for New England, it is a very little matter, but Mr. George might be interested to know that all modern historians agree that this story is entirely apocryphal. No basis for it has ever been adduced.—Letter to the New York Evening Post.

CHILD WELFARE EXHIBIT.

The State University of Texas has appropriated a sum that will make it possible to have a child welfare exhibit at the state fair in that state this fall. Many cities will have exhibits of their own, and the Texas Congress of Mothers is working to make a success of the exhibit. The playgrounds of the state will form one portion of the exhibit.

CRITICAL SENSE.

"That youngest son of Biggins seems to have the making of a true musician in him."

"Does he sing or play?"

"No. But he cries piteously when Biggins tries to."
